ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS

1. Please name the five different Audience types.

The five audience types are Friendly, Neutral, Uninformed, Hostile, and Expert. Every audience has different expectations and levels of knowledge. Understanding your audience helps you choose the right language, tone, and communication style to make your message more effective and engaging.

2. Please name the 6 key steps for an Effective Communication Process.

The six key steps are Sender, Encoding, Message, Channel, Receiver, and Feedback. The sender creates a message, encodes it into words or symbols, sends it through a channel, and the receiver interprets it. Feedback confirms whether the message has been understood correctly.

3. Name any 3 Barriers to Communication.

Three common barriers are Physical Barriers, Language Barriers, and Psychological Barriers. Physical barriers include noise or distance, language barriers arise from differences in language or vocabulary, and psychological barriers result from emotions, stress, or personal biases.

4. Name any 3 Core Principles of Effective Communication.

Three important principles are Clarity, Conciseness, and Completeness. Communication should be simple and understandable, free from unnecessary information, and contain all the details needed for the receiver to take appropriate action.

5. What does S.T.A.I.R stand for?

S.T.A.I.R stands for Situation, Task, Action, Impact, and Reflection. It is a structured method used to explain experiences, achievements, or problem-solving situations in a clear and professional manner, especially during interviews and presentations.

6. Which are the three components of Non-Written Communication?

The three components are Visual, Vocal, and Verbal. Visual communication includes body language and facial expressions, vocal communication includes tone and pitch of voice, while verbal communication refers to the actual words used during interaction.

7. What are the Three levels of Effective Communication Planning?

The three levels are Strategic Planning, Tactical Planning, and Operational Planning. Strategic planning focuses on long-term goals, tactical planning determines the methods to achieve those goals, and operational planning focuses on daily communication activities.

8. Name the 4 Key Elements of Personality Development.

The four key elements are Physical Appearance, Attitude, Behavior, and Communication Skills. Together, these factors influence an individual's personality, confidence, and ability to build positive relationships in personal and professional life.

9. What does the “ABC Model” in Verbal Communication Stand for?

The ABC Model stands for Accuracy, Brevity, and Clarity. Effective verbal communication should provide correct information, be concise without unnecessary details, and be easy for the listener to understand.

10. What are the 4 P's in the 4P Model of Presentation Skill?

The four P's are Preparation, Planning, Practice, and Performance. A successful presentation requires gathering information, organizing content, rehearsing thoroughly, and delivering it confidently to the audience.

11. What are the 3 key pillars of Emotional Intelligence in Communication?

The three pillars are Self-Awareness, Self-Regulation, and Empathy. These skills help individuals understand their emotions, manage their reactions, and recognize the feelings of others, leading to stronger and more effective communication.

12. What are the 4 C's of a proper E-mail?

The four C's are Clear, Concise, Correct, and Courteous. A professional email should have a clear purpose, be brief and relevant, contain accurate information, and maintain a respectful tone throughout.

13. Provide the Percentage of the Components of Non-Written Communication, namely VISUAL, VOCAL & VERBAL.

According to communication research:

- Visual – 55%
- Vocal – 38%
- Verbal – 7%

This suggests that people often interpret messages more through body language and tone of voice than through the actual words being spoken.

14. Name any 2 types of Listening.

Two important types of listening are Active Listening and Empathetic Listening. Active listening involves fully concentrating on the speaker, while empathetic listening focuses on understanding the speaker's emotions and perspective.

15. Name any 2 Visual Components of Non-Written Communication.

Two visual components are Eye Contact and Facial Expressions. Eye contact shows confidence and attentiveness, while facial expressions help communicate emotions such as happiness, concern, interest, or surprise.
